

IAG Armored Mercedes Benz Sprinter Bus

The IAG armored Mercedes Benz Sprinter Bus is designed for transporting a large number of personnel through high risk urban environments. The base Sprinter van from Mercedes Benz has ample interior space to accommodate custom seating for up to 13 PAX in the rear plus driver and co-driver in the front. B6 armoring is integrated in the vehicle body to protect all occupants from ballistic and explosive threats. Various vehicle components are also reinforced/upgraded to support the weight of the armoring at full capacity

IAG Armored Toyota Hiace Passenger Van

The IAG armored Toyota Hiace passenger van is a smaller, more cost effective alternative to the armored Mercedes Benz Sprinter for transporting personnel in urban settings. The armored Toyota Hiace can carry up to 7 PAX in the rear plus 1 driver and 2 co-drivers in the front in the passenger van configuration. The vehicle can be armored up to the CEN B6 level to withstand multiple impacts from 7.62x51mm rifle ammunition while maintaining the discrete appearance of the original unarmored Toyota Hiace.

IDEX 2011

We would like to kindly remind you that the 10th International Defence Exhibition and Conference (IDEX) will be taking place at the Abu Dhabi National Exhibition Centre (ADNEC) in Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates. IAG will be attending as an exhibitor in area D, booth 10-D-18 from Sunday, February 20th to Thursday, February 24th. As always, we welcome any interested visitors to stop by to look at our display armored vehicle and learn more about what IAG can offer.
